

German Association for Aligner Orthodontics (DGAO)

The DGAO is the first scientific association in the field of treatment using clear plastic splints (aligners). The Association aims to demonstrate and promote the benefits of increasingly popular wire-free orthodontics through teaching and research.

Thus, the DGAO represents the perfect, manufacturer-independent platform for technical information and continuing education. Members receive direct access to the latest information about aligner technology – analysed and evaluated by experts.