DGAO Research Award 2018

The DGAO Research Award has meanwhile become firmly established in the orthodontic research community. This was more than confirmed by the large number of entries for the award in 2016, which went to the project group of Prof. Dr. Karl-Friedrich Krey from the University Greifswald for the planned study "Biological reality of computer-planned tooth movement with aligners – a multi-centre, prospective study“.
